ASSAULT ON A HEALTH OFFICER

Dr. J. R. Dickson Lays Information against Isaac Deardorff Charging him with Assault. Outcome of Measles Agitation.

As the outcome of the acute stage which the measles agitation has reached in and about Arendtsville, Isaac F. Deardorff now awaits trial at Court on a charge of assault on an officer, Dr. J. R. Dickson acting as County Medical Inspector. The warrant on this charge was served on Mr. Deardorff on Monday by County Detective Wilson.

The development is the most recent of the many which have followed the general opposition to the rigid enforcement of the state quarantine law in and about Arendtsville. It is generally felt that many people of that vicinity are concealing the presence of measles in their homes by not employing a physician and giving the cases home treatment instead. As soon as the children recover they are sent to school and, the home not having been under quarantine, they are admitted and the entire purpose of avoiding further contagion is frustrated.

It was reported to Dr. Dickson that measles had appeared in the Deardorff family and several others in Butler township, near Arendtsville, and he accordingly visited that section to make inspection. After visiting other homes he stopped at the Deardorff house and, as he was blanketing his horse, Mr. Deardorff appeared and told him that he might as well save himself the trouble as he would not allow him to enter.

The physician, who has power to demand entrance in the pursuance of his duties, continued, however, and as he started into the yard was met by Mr. Deardorff who in the meantime had picked up an axe handle, and, it is alleged, was standing in a threatening attitude. Dr. Dickson informed him that he would have him arrested on a charge of assault and then retired, after being refused information concerning the presence of measles or other sickness in the Deardorff family.

C. B. Hoffman, health officer of Cumberland township, was sent to Arendtsville by Dr. Dickson and he placarded the Deardorff house together with several others and on Monday the warrant on Mr. Deardorff was served.

Mr. Deardorff, acting under instructions of counsel, waived a hearing and gave bail for his appearance at Court.

Interest and feeling in the quarantine matter in the upper end is very keen. The health officers, in enforcing the state laws, declare that the regulations must be adhered to and citizens object to the provisions of the quarantine, saying that they are more severe than necessary.

Fumigation has been carried on by officers but, as a rule, the patients were not confined to one room and effective work in that line is difficult, the best that can be done in most instances being the fumigation of the room in which the patients were kept during the most severe stage of their illness.

The effort of persons to keep from publicity the presence of the disease in their families is likely to make the contagion continue for some time, say the health authorities, though they are rapidly finding homes where such concealment is attempted and giving quarantine orders. The reluctance with which these orders are followed is equally discouraging to those endeavoring to enforce the laws.

MT. ALTO MAN CUT

Mont Alto Man badly Hurt in Street Affray at Waynesboro.

Benjamin Stouffer, of Waynesboro, is in jail in Chambersburg under $1,000 bail for court which he cannot secure. He is charged before Magistrate Potter of aggravated assault and battery. About midnight Saturday Stouffer met and got into an altercation on the streets of Waynesboro, with Charles Shaffer, of Mont Alto, a much smaller man. In the melee he cut Shaffer three times on the head twice on the face, across the right shoulder and across the abdomen, none being very deep or serious. Then Shaffer knocked Stouffer down and gave him a glorious whipping, blacking his eyes. Later Shaffer found that he was cut and bleeding and went to a doctor and later went to his home in Mont Alto.

SENATOR SCOTT IS BURNED OUT

William A. Scott Esq. Awakes to Find Burning Embers Falling on his Bed. Escapes but Loses House, Furniture and Clothing.

William A. Scott, Esq., better known as "Senator" Scott, awoke in his home near Iron Springs this morning at four o'clock to find the building in flames and burning embers falling on his bed.

Mr. Scott had retired at his usual time Monday night and all was well. His discovery at the early hour this morning that his home was on fire was just in time to allow him to escape from the burning structure for, in a few more minutes, he would have been burned to death. As it was, he lost all his clothing and furniture and is left without "house or home". It is supposed that the fire was caused by an overheated stove which ignited wood work and other inflammable material.

Mr. Scott's house was a one and a half story frame structure. It was painted white and had his "shingle" on the front door, "W. A. Scott, Attorney-at-Law".

Mr. Scott has been living near Iron Springs for some years where he enjoys raising vegetables and chickens and spending a portion of his time in literary pursuits. He has been absent at various times when he has gone to other towns to visit friends but he has been spending the greater portion of the year at his mountain home where he entertains all friends who call.

The "many acquaintances of the Senator" will regret to learn of his misfortune.

OBJECTS TO THE GRAY

Narrow Minded Correspondent Voices Bitter Sentiment. Favors Wagner.

We publish the following communication to the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin not because it voices our sentiments—far from it—but because it is interesting to note how narrow and perverted the ideas of some people can really be.

To the Editor of "The Bulletin",

Sir: We are to have a celebration of the anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg this summer. The State Legislature has appropriated a large sum of money for the occasion. Ex-rebel soldiers in gray carrying the Stars and Bars and with bands playing "Dixie" and the "Bonnie Blue Flag" are to be on hand and we are to put them on the back and tell them what noble and brave fellows they were to try to break away from the United States and establish a select little slave republic of their own.

I believe in calling a spade a spade, and I speak for thousands when I say that we hate the rebel uniform, the Stars and Bars and "Dixie." The war is over and if the South is as loyal to the United States as she says she is, she should not wish to parade and glorify the emblems and insignia of her mistaken cause. The Stars and Bars represent our country's flag and the Stars and Bars represent an attempt to overthrow it.

I don't wonder that General Wagner resigned from the Commission, and if this celebration is not intended to celebrate the glorious victory of the United States or the Union soldiers over the forces of the would-be Confederate States fighting for slavery and secession, then it is an unrighteous occasion, tending to teach a new generation that it is just as noble to fight against the Stars and Bars as it is to fight for them.

JOHN E. BRADLEY.

The Harrisburg Star-Independent makes this cynical comment: "A million dollars will be expended by the State and the Republic in the Gettysburg celebrations. A million dollars could be well expended for something useful."

WAS KILLED BY LARGE BOULDER

Workman at Quarry in Eastern End of the County Met Instant Death when Large Boulder Crushed out his Life.

Edward Dixon, about 40 years of age, a transient workman in the quarries of the Pennsylvania Lime Products company in Conowago township, met with a fatal accident about 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

What work is absolutely necessary on Sunday is done between the hours of 8 and 11 a. m. Mr. Dixon reported for work about 8 o'clock, and while standing under a large boulder, in the quarry hole, which was apparently firm, it toppled over, falling upon Mr. Dixon and killing him instantly. Four men, with iron bars, removed the stone, and Dr. H. M. Alleman, of Hanover, who was summoned by telephone, responded promptly, but the man was beyond human aid.

The body was removed to a building near by and prepared for burial. At 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon the remains were interred in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Hanover, Rev. A. M. Heilman, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, officiating.

The unfortunate man worked for the company about a year. He was a stranger in these parts and he never spoke of having any relatives.

CASHTOWN

Cashtown—John Reamer had a very narrow escape from being shot last Wednesday. He was working in his broom factory when he saw a chicken hawk after his young chickens and he got the gun and set it on the back porch in readiness for the bird. In some way he jarred the gun which caused it to slip off the porch, the hammer striking the edge of the porch and discharging the gun. The load passed near his head.

There will be quite a lot of changing around in this place this spring; G. J. Martz from the Schwartz farm to Gettysburg; James Andrew will move on the property vacated by Mr. Martz; Howard Cook will move to the S. P. Stover farm; C. A. Heiges will move to Gettysburg. As the time is near they are making ready to move.

Rev. John M. Diehl and wife, of McConnellsburg, recently spent a few days with Mr. Diehl's parents in this place.

On Friday at noon the funeral of Mrs. Jacob Corwell passed through this place for interment at Florh's cemetery. Mrs. Corwell died at her home in Chambersburg. She is survived by her husband, five sons and one daughter.

There will be preaching every night this week at Florh's church.

On Sunday morning while attending Sunday school at the church in this place Harman Rife had his horse tied back on the hitching ground. The storm blew a sheet of tin roofing off a chicken coop which was in D. A. Mickley's chicken yard and frightened the horse, causing him to rear loose. The buggy caught on the post to which the horse was tied and the horse broke away and ran home. Luckily the animal was not hurt.

DOG QUARANTINE

Carlisle Has Mad Dog Scare. All Canines Under Quarantine.

A quarantine of dogs for a period of 100 days, is now in effect in Carlisle. This is the result of a case of rabies which developed in a dog, which had bitten another animal and was afterwards killed and buried. Burgess Einstein ordered the head of the dog sent to the State Livestock Sanitary Board's laboratory for examination. The reply came Monday that the dog had a bad case of rabies and accordingly the quarantine was established.

ALL SALE SEASON RECORDS BROKEN

One Hundred and Twenty Six Adams County Farmers Choose the Gettysburg Times in which to Advertise their Spring Sales.

One hundred and twenty-six Adams County residents have had their sales advertised through The Gettysburg Times this year—more than the combined number of any two other newspaper offices in the county. Those who should know say that it is the largest number of spring sales ever carried by any Adams County newspaper and The Times is perhaps justified in taking this means of telling its advertisers and other friends about it.

These 126 sales were not merely placed in our sale register, but the actual advertising of the list of articles for sale was placed in our columns and the almost uniform success of the sales advertised through this medium has been most gratifying not only to the farmers but also to The Times.

This immense sale business means something to the merchant who believes in advertising. It means that the farmers of the county know that to reach other farmers the best way is to use the columns of this paper. The country man knows what newspaper most of his friends and neighbors read and the large number who selected The Times to let people know of their coming sales was a clear indication of the circulation of the paper, and the esteem in which the country man holds it as an advertising medium.

While the advertising in the paper has been so heavy many of the parties having sale had their cards and bills printed here and we take this means of thanking our county friends for their very liberal patronage, to both our advertising and job departments.

SCHOOL ARGUMENT

Directors and Patrons in Menallen Township Held Meeting.

At a meeting of the school directors and a number of patrons of Menallen township, held in Locust Grove school, the question of consolidating a number of the schools of the township was brought up for an animated and interesting discussion. The Fruit Growers Association of the county heard arguments on this line presented some days ago by a representative of the State Department of Public Instruction and by Prof. H. M. Roth.

The discussion at Locust Grove school resulted in the presentation of a number of arguments both favoring and opposing the plan to establish six schools in a central building. It was stated that a fair estimate of hauling the children to school over from two to four miles of bad roads would cost the township annually from $1500 to $2000 more than the district schools as conducted at the present time. It was also felt by some that parents would object to their small children having these daily rides.

The general sentiment seemed to be that the directors would not want to enter into a plan which would provide for the consolidation of the various schools.

ALLEGED ROWDYISM

Trolley Conductor Makes Information Against Harry Ebaugh.

Harry Ebaugh, of Hanover, was arrested by Officer Smeach on a warrant issued by Justice V. H. Lilly, of McSherrystown, on oath of Clinton A. Wintrobe, a conductor on the Littlestown trolley, charging him with surety of the peace. Last Friday evening, Ebaugh, Curvin Keever, and a few other fellows boarded the last car from Littlestown at McSherrystown. At first they stood on the platform and annoyed Conductor Wintrobe by pulling the bell rope. He then ordered them into the car. They complied without argument, but on the inside became very loud. The conductor ordered them to stop, threatening to put them off the car. During the argument which followed, one of the men struck him in the face. When the car reached the car barn the conductor telephoned for an officer, but they "got wise" and left the car before it reached Hanover. Keever immediately left Hanover and has not yet been arrested and Ebaugh entered bail for a hearing before Justice Lilly.

PERSONAL NOTES AND BRIEF ITEMS

Paragraphs of News Telling of the Happenings in and about Town. People Visiting here and those Sojourning Elsewhere.

College closes for the Easter vacation at noon on Thursday and will reopen on Wednesday morning of next week for the final weeks of the school year.

The masons have started work on the cyclorama building and the walls are expected to go up rapidly. The construction is of hollow tile which "lays fast".

The Reading has practically abandoned its tracks on Railroad street, between North Washington and Carlisle, since moving its freight business to the new station. The tracks will remain, however, for use when needed.

A number of Gettysburg residents are preparing to lay pavements as soon as the weather permits it to be done with any degree of safety. Cement sidewalks will again be the most numerous.

The measles tags have about all disappeared from the doors of Gettysburg homes and little is left of the epidemic here except the memory of it.

Three home talent plays are in process of preparation. Members of the Catholic church will present "The Vagabonds" on April 2; the Senior class of the High School will give a play on April 4; and the Sophomore class of college is getting ready to present a play some time after Easter.

The Freshman class at college held their banquet at Hotel Gettysburg on Monday evening. The room was very prettily decorated and an elaborate supper was served. The menu, list of toasts, and so on were enclosed in leather card cases.

The contract for lighting the veterans' camp in July was awarded on Monday to the Gettysburg Lighting Company at a bid of $8500.

Hon. Theo. McAllister entertained the Gettysburg Boys' Club Monday night by giving recollections of many interesting experiences.

Miss Agnes McClean wishes us to state that her name should not have appeared in the list of guests at the dance of Miss Margaret Stiles which appeared in yesterday's Times. Miss McClean states that she was not present.

If the parents all agree it may be possible that President Magill will take all the Penn Hall students from Chambersburg to Atlantic City for a month from May to June. If the project goes through a hotel at the shore will be leased for the month and the studies pursued there.

MANY BILLS

Bills of Local Interest before State Legislature. Anniversary Bill.

Upwards of 300 new bills were offered in the House Monday night, when the time limit for new bills expired. The total for the session in the House alone will be close to the 1,700 mark, a new record. Some of the bills were important; others freakish and the majority of them unimportant. Among the bills were:

Post, Washington—Requiring recorders of deeds to keep dockets open for inspection by the public, showing the entry and permitting abstracts to be made for publication under penalty of $50 fine.

Watson, Indiana.—Appropriating $135,000 to Gettysburg Semi-Centennial Commission.

Allen, Allegheny—Making religious and charitable properties taxable for local purposes.

Snavely, Lebanon—Prohibiting issuance of orders requiring vaccination.

Miller, Lehigh—Proposing a constitutional amendment to abolish associate judges.

SAYS EATON CASE IS "SERIOUS ONE"

Widow and Mother-in-Law ill; Prosecutor Silent.

Brockton, Mass., March 15.—New interest in the police investigation of the death of Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton was given by an expression from District Attorney Barker, who said that the case "was a very serious one." Admiral Eaton died suddenly a week ago and poisoning is suspected.

Mr. Barker has consistently refused to discuss the matter, although it has been intimated that he might make a statement when he receives a report from the Harvard medical school, where the stomach removed from the admiral's body was taken for examination.

A physician was called twice to the home of the widow at Norwell, but nothing as to the condition of Mrs. Eaton or her mother, Mrs. George Harrison, both of whom he knew to be ill, was made known. The ailments of the two women are closely guarded by the authorities.

SINGING MOTHERS.

Charm of the Music of Their Voices to Their Little Ones.

They came to me in a dream—those singing mothers. A long, slow procession of shadowy forms, beautiful as rainbows and as wonderful, singing a strange haunting melody full of mystery. First came troops of girl mothers, clasping their little babes with a tenderness that was half fear and with wide, inquiring eyes filled with holy light and the consciousness of the deepest realization of life. Then came strong mothers of youth, leading happy faced children and confident with a sense of power, buoyant with hope and radiant with promise. Last of all came silver mothers of men, leaning on their stalwart sons and, though bowed with years, yet gloriously young in spirit, hallowed by memories and glowing with the victory of achievement. And I, a mother, watching these pass by and listening to their haunting music, felt as never before the divine significance of motherhood and all the hidden meanings in the word "singing."

All this is music in a marvelous mood, but there is no music on earth more appealing or more far reaching than the voice of a mother singing to her little ones. No audience ever listened with keener rapture to any prima donna than that little group gathered in the twilight hour at a mother's knee. It is her dearest joy at that time to put into music all the sacredness of motherhood and the happiness of childhood, to teach and to charm and to tune the hearts of her children.—Anne P. L. Field in Craftsman.

LOADED CANE FOR WILSON

Gift From the West Contains Request For a Postmastership.

Washington, March 15.—President Wilson found himself reading an application for a postmastership in spite of his rule not to consider personally applications for minor offices.

W. T. Hepper, of Lompac, California, sent him a cane, which did not look as if it were loaded, but when the president unscrewed the top he found that Hepper had enclosed a request that a friend be appointed postmaster at Lompac.

The president acknowledged receipt of the cane, but referred the application to Postmaster General Burleson.

THE OLD TIME CHRISTMAS.
I'm thinking tonight of the old Yuletide. When Christmas was such a joy. Looked forward to with fondest hopes. By the old time girl and boy.

How early we went to bed that night To squeeze good Santa time To squeeze through the high old chimney Before the bells would chime!

We found our woolen stockings All hung in a long row Above the open fireplace In the light of the Yule log's glow.

We scampered down the winding stair To find a wonderful tree All decked with stars and candles And gifts for you and me.

There were scarfs and mitts and pulchery warmers. Copper toed boots and skates. Goose runner sleds and hoods and caps. Wool stockings and books and slates.

And walnut taffy and ginger cake birds And dogs and pigs and goats And cherries, chestnuts and hickory nuts And home spun pants and coats.

How happy we were o'er our useful gifts. How glad to hear of the star That beckoned the wise men from the east To Mary's child afar!

Christmas seems not the same today As in those old days when Mother made most of our Christmas gifts And told us of Bethlehem.

A PUMPKIN EPISODE

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press

If at any time during the year 1903 you had arrived in the village of Grafton in a certain middle state you would have found a restful, peaceful place. No one rushed about. No one talked politics. No one argued over Jonah and the whale. There were no quarrels among men or dogs. If you had asked Deacon Somers what thrilling event had happened in Grafton in the last twenty years he would have taken five minutes to reflect and then slowly answered:

"Waal, I can't think of nawthin' 'cept the Baptist church being struck by lightning!"

In that same year a man traveled over a good part of Indiana and Illinois buying pumpkin seeds of farmers. He offered 15 cents a pound for all they would send him in the fall to a certain address in Chicago, and if a farmer wanted some money in advance to protect himself he got it.

It was the same man that had bought the seeds several hundred miles away that appeared in Grafton early in January of the next year. He had come to herald the fact that a great medical discovery had been made by accident, as most great things are. It was that the seeds of a certain pumpkin grown nowhere else except along the Lybian desert were a sure cure for indigestion, liver troubles, kidney ailments, nervousness and a dozen other things. They would positively prevent consumption and cancer and all sorts of fevers.

Mr. White had a few of the seeds with him. They were chocolate colored instead of a yellow white. They could be had only in Chicago, and no order exceeding a peck would be filled. Just hold a seed in the mouth for five minutes and then chew it down.

Grafton woke up. Bell county woke up. Other counties woke up. A full page ad in the local papers woke the editors up. Talk about booms and a raise of 20 per cent in real estate! Why, here was a gold mine, and everybody owning an acre of ground was going to become a millionaire inside of two years.

Did the confiding public send away to Chicago for the Lybian seeds? You bet they did! They got 'em by the hundred, the pint, the quart and the peck. Some men made the trip there and back that they might plead in person for a larger quantity than the circular allotted. The letters going west averaged thirty per day for months.

The editors said that Mr. White was an honest man and the crying need of the country was more like him.

Mr. White himself didn't say much. He was too busy signing contracts to do much talking. What he did say, and with much feeling, was that he hoped the people would not forget him after he had departed.

They haven't yet and probably never will.

The village of Grafton had four pretty fair doctors. At the beginning of things they called Mr. White a liar, a faker and a fraud. His reply was that when Harvey discovered the circulation of the blood men wanted to mob him for a charlatan. The doctors deduced the curative properties of the Lybian pumpkin seeds. He replied that for years and years the medical fraternity had fought shy of quinine.

No, they didn't get anything on Mr. White to scare him out of town between two days. He was right on the job all the time, and the doctors suffered in prestige instead of gaining. It was probably one of the four that wrote a letter to Washington that brought an inspector to Grafton to see if the postal laws were being broken. He came and saw and went away. He said that somebody had to get the money of the Uncle Rukes of the country and he could see no difference between Mr. White and the brokers of Wall street.

As spring approached and the snow began to go and the people to get ready for pumpkin seed planting there came to Grafton one day a professor from the State Agricultural college. He had heard of the seeds and wanted to see them. They were shown him, and he promptly identified them as the seeds of American pumpkins.

"But they are not a yellow white," was protested.

"That's because they have all been dyed!"

"But these surely came from a deacon!"

"How do you make that out?"

"They feel sandy."

"Couldn't sand be sifted over them?" "Sir," said Mr. White to the professor in a quiet and even voice, "are you prepared to substantiate your allegations in a court of law?"

"Yes, I say they are American pumpkins seeds."

"You must prove them to be such or pay me twenty damages."

The professor wilted and when he had been notified by several parties that he had better move on he moved.

On the day that the first seeds went into the ground Mr. White took a trip. He hasn't returned yet.

More than 300 acres of land were prepared and planted, and the yield was tens of thousands of American pumpkins. Hundreds of people chewed up the Lybian seeds, but no one was bettered—straight fake and pure fraud from beginning to end, and yet there were many who felt about it as Deacon Johnson did when he said:

"Well, that saves us the trouble of investing our money in mortgages!"

"I wish to state to you the facts and nothing but the facts. I bless the day a friend brought me a 50-cent bottle of RHEUMA. I used one-half of it and it did me more good than all the other medicines I ever tried. I had been afflicted with Rheumatism all over my body for more than 25 yrs.; I could not walk, and was a broken-down man. During that time I spent a small fortune trying to be rid of the horrible disease, but without help. However, RHEUMA reached my case, and I thank God I can again use my feet and do my work."

"Before taking your medicine I was staying with a daughter on her farm, and despite her loving efforts to tempt my appetite I could not eat. After I had taken RHEUMA two days my appetite returned. Yours for prosperity."—Prof. H. H. Kolling, 7 S. Ninth St., Richmond, Ind., Oct. 10, 1912.

RINGING CHEERS FOR ROOSEVELT

Again Outlines Progressive Policy in Philadelphia.

500 WOMEN WERE PRESENT

Join Men in Enthusiastic Greeting to Bull Moose Leader at Banquet of Electoral College Association.

Philadelphia, March 15.—A political dinner, unique in the annals of Philadelphia, was that of the Electoral College Association of Pennsylvania in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford hotel.

It was unique by reason of the fact that of the 1100 present, who heard Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and Albert J. Beveridge outline the Progressive doctrine again, approximately one-half that number were women.

The dinner was given in connection with the first annual Pennsylvania state Progressive conference, and it was enthusiastic in the superlative. From the moment the diners were seated until Colonel Roosevelt arose to speak the packed galleries, the diners and in fact every one in the great ball room looked forward to the utterances of the Progressive leader and his first lieutenant, ex-Senator Beveridge.

The usual Roosevelt enthusiasm was manifest when the colonel entered the room. That immense assemblage was on its feet with ringing cheers. It eclipsed the demonstration at the Metropolitan Opera House on Thursday night and brought a smile to Colonel Roosevelt's face, more expressive than any of his characteristic remarks of "Gee" and "Gully" could be.

The ballroom was prettily decorated. Flowers and flags were there in profusion. Lights of every color and varied brilliance flared about the massive pillars, from the ceiling and upon the table. But no Bull Moose emblems were visible in any part of the room.

William Wilhelms presided as master of ceremonies. He called upon a brilliant array of speakers, each of whom was enthusiastically received. They were Colonel Roosevelt, former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Judge Charles N. Brown, of Pottsville; Clyde Kelley and Mrs. Maud Howe Elliott, daughter of Julia Ward Howe.

Colonel Roosevelt spoke but a short time. Senator Beveridge, the last speaker, spoke longer and had the greater crowd standing, shouting with enthusiasm. With all the power of his oratory he outlined the Progressive policies, the policy of social and industrial justice, and finally painted a glowing picture of the success of the Progressive party in this state and the nation.

From the boxes, filled with women, long and loud cheers came when Senator Beveridge finished. In fact throughout the dinner and through the speaking the women voiced the sense of the affair by their cheers and applause.

OLIVER MAKES DENIAL

Plant Where Women Have Struck Not His, Says Senator.

Washington, March 14.—Senator Oliver, of Pennsylvania, made this statement:

"Many of the papers throughout the country published news of a certain strike of women employed in the iron works in Pittsburgh, with the added information that the works in question were owned by Senator George T. Oliver."

"This statement is erroneous in every respect. I disposed of all my manufacturing interests in Pittsburgh more than ten years ago and am now connected with any of the industries of that city except the newspaper of which I am publisher. As a matter of fact, I never had any interest whatever in the plant where the trouble exists."

DENY MEAT PACKERS CLAIM

Housewives' League Seek to Verify Figures of Cattle Shortage.

New York, March 15.—The National Housewives' League does not accept as satisfactory the reply which it received from President Leonard, of the United Stock Yards company, in Chicago, giving the shortage of cattle as an explanation of high prices.

"All the wholesalers and retailers," said Mrs. Julian Heath, president of the league, "declare that even if there were a great shortage in cattle the retail demand for meat at the present time is so small that the decrease in supply would not raise the prices to their present height."

Mrs. Heath has telegraphed Mr. Leonard's figures on the shortage of cattle to the bureau of animal industry in Washington for verification.

Marriages in Burma.

A curious idea among the Burmese is that people born on the same day of the week must not marry and that if they defy the fates their union will be marked by much ill luck. To prevent these disastrous marriages every girl carries a record of her birthday in her name, each day of the week having a letter belonging to it, and all children are called by a name which begins with that letter.

JULIAN HAWTHORNE.

Sentenced to One Year in Prison For Fraud.

HAWTHORNE GUILTY OF MAIL FRAUDS

Two Companions Convicted; Quincy Acquitted.

New York, March 15.—Julian Hawthorne, Dr. William J. Morton and Albert Freeman are guilty of using the United States mails to defraud the public in connection with the promotion of four mining properties in California which the three men knew to be worthless.

The verdict was rendered in the United States district court by a jury which had been deliberating for over twenty-seven hours.

Judge Mayer thereupon sentenced Freeman to serve five years and three days in the federal prison at Atlanta; Julian Hawthorne to serve one year and one day in the Atlanta prison, and Dr. Morton also to serve one year and one day in the Atlanta prison. Ex-Mayor Josiah Quincy was acquitted.

The trial consumed seventy court days, a record second only to that of the Scheitel case, which required eighty-one court days in the prosecution of the Hawthorne case. The government put on the stand 102 witnesses and the defense only six. One hundred and sixty-four exhibits were marked in evidence. The total number of documents in evidence were about 10,000. The testimony covered 8000 typewritten pages.

It has cost the government about $70,000 to prosecute the case, and the defense about $50,000.

TO END BOMB OUTRAGES

Special Police Squad to Go After Black Hand in New York.

New York, March 15.—Formation of a special police squad whose duty it will be to put an end to bomb outrages in various sections of the city, chiefly the East Side, was announced by Deputy Commissioner Dougherty.

Mr. Dougherty declared that the criminals who had set off more than 100 bombs, many with disastrous results, during the year 1912, and had caused ten explosions, several of them fatal, within the last six weeks were one of the greatest menaces to the city.

He aims by the creation of the squad to break up the black hand gangs responsible for the outrages.

Hands Severed by Train.

Camden, N. J., March 15.—While attempting to board a moving train at Woodstown station, William H. Simpson, sixty years old, colored, lost his grip and was thrown so that both his hands were completely severed by the wheels of the train. In addition his skull is probably fractured. He was taken to the Cooper hospital in Camden, where his condition is serious.

CALLS CONGRESS TO MEET APRIL 7

Wilson's Proclamation Does Not Specify its Duties.

FIRST MESSAGE ON TARIFF

Currency Reform, Independence of Philippines and Other Important Questions to Be Left For Regular Session.

Washington, March 18. — President Wilson issued the formal proclamation convening the Sixty-third congress in extraordinary session at noon April 7.
The president's pronouncement was brief and followed form closely. It reads:

"Whereas, public interests require that the congress of the United States should be convened in extra session at 12 o'clock noon on the 7th day of April, 1913, to receive such communication as may be made by the executive;

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary session requires the congress of the United States to convene in extra session at the capital in the city of Washington on the 7th day of April, 1913, at 12 o'clock noon, of which all persons who shall at that time be entitled to act as members thereof are hereby required to take notice.

"Given under my hand and seal of the United States of America, the 17th day of March in the year of Our Lord 1913 and of the Independence of the United States the 137th.

"WOODROW WILSON.
"By the President,
"WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN,
Secretary of State."

Originally Mr. Wilson had fixed upon April 1 as the date, Representative Underwood, the Democratic house leader, having informed him that the tariff bills, to which it was agreed congress should give immediate attention, would be ready on that date.

Mr. Underwood found that the ways and means committee would need an other week to draft the tariff schedules, and the proclamation is in deference to the wishes of Mr. Underwood and other house leaders.

The absence of any specific reason for the calling of the extra session is explained by the fact that Mr. Wilson's statement immediately after his election declared that he would call an extra session to revise the tariff.

President Wilson plans to point out specifically his wishes for the extra session in his first message, which he now is preparing. This, it is known from talks the president has had with members of congress, will outline the administration's idea of how the tariff should be revised and just what schedules should be taken up.

The belief is general that the entire message will be taken up with a discussion of the tariff with the exception of the last paragraph or two,
which will draw attention to the need of currency legislation at the earliest possible moment and will indicate the purpose of the president to send later a special message on that or other subjects, which he believes should be taken up by the new congress.

It is understood at the White House that the president's first message will request that currency reform, the independence of the Philippines and other important interests be left for the regular session of congress in December.

M'COMBS ACCEPTS

Decides to Take Appointment of Ambassador to France.

Washington, March 18.—The nomination of William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic national committee, to be ambassador to France, was prepared at the White House.

As it was about to be transmitted to the senate it was withheld, at Mr.
McCombs' request. Mr. McCombs has declined to accept the post, and it is said the delay does not mean any change in his intentions.

The president does not expect to announce any more appointments until the extra session of congress convenes unless some extraordinary occasion demands it. By April 7 he is expected to select men for most of the important posts he has to fill.

Beavers Gets Five Years.

Trenton, N. J., March 18.—Abram L.
Beavers was sentenced to five years in the federal prison at Atlanta for embezzlement. Beavers was formerly the cashier of the First National bank, of High Bridge, N. J., and was indicted for converting to his own use $75,000 of the bank's funds. Beavers pleaded guilty.

Cattle Die In Flood.

Macon, Ga., March 18.—Several thousand head of cattle in the lowlands below Macon along the Ocmulgee river have been drowned by high waters, according to reports received here. Hundreds of acres of the rich bottom land is under water from two to ten feet.

Washington, March 18.—The White

egg rolling pranks.

A HINDU IDOL.

Its Strange History Caused Mme. Car-
not to Order It Destroyed.

When Mme. Carnot, widow of Sadl Carnot, died her will was read a clause in it caused considerable comment. This was to the effect that a certain small Hindu idol carved from a hard stone which would be found among her property must be taken out and crushed until completely destroyed.
Many marveled at this apparently singular request, for the idol seemed a harmless, ugly little thing, but her instructions were carried out to the letter.

The idol had been presented to Sadl Carnot years before he had ever thought of the presidency of France by a friend who had brought it from India. Later he learned that there was a legend attached to it which asserted that whosoever would retain it in his possession would rise to the fullest height of power in his chosen profession, but die of a stab wound when at the zenith of his career.

M. Carnot traced the history of the idol and found that for 500 years the rulers who had possessed it had all died either in battle or by assassination from stab wounds. Yet he laughed at the story, called the facts adduced by his search a mere chain of coincidences and retained the idol. He died by a dagger in the hands of an assassin;
hence Mme. Carnot's strange request.

WM. H. GRUMBINE

Husband of Miss Sarah J. Fisher Dies
in Smethport, this State.

William H. Grumbine, an old and well-known resident of Smethport, McKean county, died at the home of W. L. Dunn, March 7, after an illness of about four weeks.

Wm. H. Grumbine was born in Waynesboro, Franklin county, February 10, 1834. He spent his early life there and learned the watchmaker's trade. October 4, 1859, he was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Jane Fisher, of Gettysburg. Two children were born to them. They died in childhood and Mrs. Grumbine died October 18, 1901.

When the civil war broke out Mr.
Grumbine enlisted in Co. F, 87th Pa.
Vol. Inf., and served his country for four years. He was captured by the enemy twice and was confined in Libby and Belle Isle prisons.

PROBE COMPROMISE OF OLEO CASES

Grand Jury to Seek Evidence of Conspiracy.

Chicago, March 18.—Judge Landis, in the United States district court, instructed a special grand jury to investigate alleged buttering frauds, compromised by the internal revenue department on March 4.

The grand jurors are to learn if the manufacturers were not guilty of conspiracy to defraud the government under section 57, of the penal code.

The jurors also were instructed to ascertain if any member of the national government was guilty of conspiracy.

On this point the court said: "If,
therefore, the officers, or agents, or attorneys of a corporation tax debtor, have conspired among themselves, or with officers of the United States, or with other persons, to defraud the government out of the revenue tax, and any one of such persons has done any act to carry such conspiracy in effect, they may all be proceeded against on account of such conspiracy, even though the criminal liability of the tax debtor, or for the fraud itself has been specifically extinguished by the commissioner of internal revenue, with the concurrence of the secretary of the treasury."

Judge Landis told the jurors it was discovered two years ago that big oleomargarine manufacturers were using cottonseed oil treated with sulphur which resulted in the imitation looking like real butter. The manufacturers, he said, were warned that they would use the colored oil at their own peril.

A committee of the house of representatives investigated, the court related, and calculated that the government has been deprived of $1,200,000 in taxes. The committee also recommended that the cases be not compromised. Nevertheless, as one of the last acts of his late administration of the treasury department, Secretary Macdonough compromised the penalties at $101,000.

"If the manufacturers have been ruthly of conspiring to defraud the government, however, the case comes under section 57 of the federal penal code," said the court, "and a charge made under that law cannot be compromised by the treasury department."

Shot Dead by Policeman.

New York, March 18.—Daniel T. Davis, colored, accused a young white woman who stepped from an up-town subway station, grabbing her by the arm until she screamed. A policeman who intervened was slashed across the face with a razor wielded by the colored man, who then fled. Although weak from loss of blood, the policeman gave chase. He fired five shots at the fleeing man, four of which pierced his body. He fell dead five blocks from the scene of the encounter.

George Meredith, according to the London Chronicle, "employs that abominable contraction 'alright.' It can't be a printer's error, for it occurs more than once. And he uses it as early as 1863, so that the abusers of our language may now claim Meredith of all men as their prophet. This is one of those things that baffle explanation particularly from a writer whose use of words was meticulous and who at ways refused to delete the first 'e' in 'judgment,' always spelling it 'judgment' in his novels. Some of us, however, will fight 'alright' to the bitter end."
